

CAREERS

As a market leader within our field, and a reputation for developing solutions to satisfy the most challenging architectural and building service applications around the globe, TROX welcomes applications from exceptional candidates.

TROX is an organisation that respects and values the contributions of people with differing skill sets, cultures and backgrounds.

We encourage creativity and innovation in all our employees. We empower our employees with responsibility and accountability and offer a dynamic and supportive work environment.

TROX places great emphasis on communication with employees and seeks to be an open organisation which welcomes your questions and suggestions.

To become an employee of a UK Company, people have to meet certain legal nationality requirements. Your application will be considered if you are a: National of the European Economic Area (EEA); Citizen of the Republic of Ireland (Eire); Commonwealth citizen and have permission to work in this country.

Even if you find that we are not advertising a vacancy suitable for your skill set we are always interested to hear from people who are interested in working at TROX UK. Please email your CV to Clare Pulham, TROX UK HR Manager: hr@troxuk.co.uk
